Who is a Pediatrician?

A pediatrician, also known as a child specialist, is a physician specializing in children's healthcare. Their expertise encompasses physical, behavioral, and mental health, addressing a wide range of conditions from minor illnesses to serious disorders. Pediatric care begins at birth.

What age range of children do your Paediatricians treat?

Our pediatricians provide care for children from birth through age 18. Infants (birth to 2 years) may require frequent visits, while children ages 2-5 typically have annual well-child checkups. Annual visits are recommended until the age of 18.

Can a Pediatrician Perform Surgery?

Pediatricians focus on children's health. While some pediatricians, with specialized surgical training, may perform procedures, pediatric surgeons are specialists in surgical care for children, performing a range of surgeries from minor procedures to complex cardiac surgery. Pediatricians primarily utilize non-surgical methods for diagnosis and treatment.
